
1995-96 High School Counselor Training Errata in the Instructor's Guide

- Two-14 In the second paragraph from the bottom of the page, the first sentence should read: “Forbearance is when the Servicing Center agrees to allow a borrower....”
- In the last paragraph on this page, the first sentence should read: “A good example of when the Servicing Center may grant a forbearance....”
- Two-15 In the third paragraph from the top of the page, the last sentence should read: “The borrower must contact the Servicing Center to make such arrangements and continue making payments until...”
- Three-6 A Statement of Updated Information is only required for Pell Grant recipients and students selected for verification.
- Three-9 In the last paragraph, the last two sentences from the bottom of the page should read, “For 1995-96, the cutoff point is 2140. This means that a student whose family is able and expected to contribute $2,140 or more isn’t eligible for this type of federal education grant.”
- Five-8 The heading before the last paragraph on this page should read: “Federal Data Matches.”
- Five-12 In the fourth bullet from the bottom on this page, the last sentence in the paragraph should read: “For 1995-96, the eligible EFC range is 0 to 2140.”
- Five-13 Second page reference on this page should read: “Please turn to page 14 of your Guide.”
- Appendix A-7 The third paragraph from the top of the page should read: “For 1995-96, the maximum EFC for Pell Grant eligibility is $2,140.”

ADDITIONAL INSTRUCTOR'S NOTES

The name of the Federal Direct Student Loan Program has been changed to the William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Program by legislation signed by President Clinton on October 20, 1994. Effects of this change will be announced at a later date.

- Two-11 At this point in the text, the instructor can merge the information on the Federal Direct Student Loan Program and the Federal Family Education Loan Program.
- Two-13 When using overheads 12 and 13, reference The Student Guide, pages 28 to 30.
- When using overhead 14, reference The Student Guide, page 36.
- Two-21 When using overhead 19, reference The Student Guide, pages 28 to 30.
- Two-22 After you finish presenting the section on loans, please ask if participants have any questions.
- Two-25 The toll-free number for the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs is 1-800-827-1000.
- Two-27 When presenting the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), refer participants to their state employment agency if they have additional questions.
- Two-29 At the end of this page, you might want to ask participants if any of their high schools offer scholarship-search services.
- Three-5 When discussing citizenship status, refer participants to The Student Guide, pages 66 and 67.
- Three-11 At the end of this page, you may want to state that 100% of student need is not always met by schools.

-
- Four-6 This page discusses outside sources of aid, such as the Polar Bear Club Scholarship. Ask the counselors to remind students and parents that it is best to tell the postsecondary schools applied to about these awards as soon as possible.
- Four-8 The second paragraph from the top of the page discusses the revised award letter. Please add a note that “a common reason for a revised award letter is verification.”
- Five-3 When discussing Section 3, “The Application and Promissory Note for Federal Stafford Loans and Federal PLUS Application and Promissory Note,” mention that some lenders and guaranty agencies have electronic FFEL loan processing.
- Five-4 When discussing Section 4, “The Institutional Application,” mention that if a postsecondary school requires a supplemental form, an applying student should contact the postsecondary school to find out if it offers a fee waiver for the supplemental form.
- Five-9 At the bottom of the page, when discussing the Selective Service, mention that students can register with it by using Question 103 on the FAFSA and on the SAR.
- Five-16 The second paragraph from the bottom of this page discusses that FFEL funds “cannot be sent to the school earlier than 21 days before the first day of classes. And, for first-year students, Stafford Loan funds cannot be sent to the school until at least 30 days after the first day of classes.” Please mention that these regulations also pertain to the Direct Student Loan Program.
- Eight-3 The second bullet from the top of the page notes where to “order FAFSA forms and free publications about federal student aid.” Mention that Spanish FAFSAs can also be ordered.
- Also: Distribute the Federal Student Aid Information Center brochure.