

Join Our Team

U.S. Department of Education
Office of Inspector General

*Exciting Subject Matter.
Meaningful Work. Impactful Results.*

Do You Want a Job? Or Do You Want a Career Where You Can Make a Difference?

- » Are you interested in working in a fast-paced environment, producing work that is covered by major media outlets and discussed on the floor of the U.S. Congress?
- » Does tackling complex criminal conspiracies, public corruption, identity theft, and financial fraud appeal to you?
- » Do you want to help fight fraud and make a difference for American's students and schools?

If your answer is yes, then we are the place for you!

Work on Some of the Most Important Issues Impacting Education in America

We're the U.S. Department of Education (ED) Office of Inspector General (ED OIG).

Often referred to as America's watchdogs, it's our job to help ensure that the hard-earned tax dollars that fund ED programs and operations are used as intended by law, achieve the desired results, and reach the intended recipients.

Whether you are just entering the workforce or are a seasoned professional, we have exciting career openings for you at offices across the country.

Work for America's Students and Taxpayers

We conduct audits and reviews of issues involving Federal student aid, K-12 schools, charter schools, special education, vocational education, adult education, and more. When our work identifies problems, we propose solutions. Our work has resulted in improvements to ED programs and changes to some of the most important Federal education laws in our country.

Stop Criminals in Their Tracks

We conduct criminal and civil investigations into suspected fraudulent activities by schools, colleges, universities, contractors, subcontractors, school officials—any entity or individual that participates in ED programs or receives ED funding. Through our work, we have unraveled multimillion-dollar fraud schemes by people placed in positions of trust to educate our children.

Be on the Cutting Edge of Cyber Security

We use the latest technology and techniques to discover and defeat current and emerging threats from cyber and economic crime. We operate a full-time, state-of-the-art computer laboratory that enables us to conduct and coordinate digital forensic analysis, data analytics, digital evidence processing, and advanced statistical techniques, as well as system security testing and evaluation.

Diverse. Inclusive. Employee-Focused.

ED OIG employs more than 200 professionals with a wide range of educational backgrounds. We emphasize the value of diversity and inclusion in the workplace to help ensure that the work we produce is accessible to the diverse public we serve. We promote a culture of excellence, collaboration, and integrity.

We offer career opportunities for auditors, accountants, criminal investigators, information technology specialists, forensic media analysts, investigative and financial analysts, attorneys, management analysts, budget analysts, human resources officers, acquisition specialists, communication specialists, Congressional liaisons, editors, graphic designers, and administrative support.

Competitive Compensation and Benefits

- Competitive salaries and opportunities for rapid and substantial salary increases.
- The Federal Thrift Savings Plan, a tax-deferred retirement savings and investment plan similar to a 401(k).
- Health benefits, including medical, dental, vision, mental health services, and physical therapy, that can be taken into retirement.
- Paid annual and sick leave, and compensatory time off for extra hours worked.
- Work-life balance with alternative and flexible work schedules and telework options.

Apply Today!

Applying for positions at ED OIG is easy. Visit the ED OIG website for a list of openings.

<https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/oig/career.html>

If you don't see an available position that fits your interests, education, or experience, check back with us regularly.

We also announce vacancies via social media, so be sure to follow us on Twitter and Facebook.

ED OIG—where great people do great work for a great organization.