PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Since fiscal year 1996, the Historically Black Colleges and Universities Capital Financing Program has provided Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) with access to capital financing for the repair, renovation, and, in exceptional circumstances, construction or acquisition of educational facilities, instructional equipment, research instrumentation, and physical infrastructure. HBCUs, which have played a prominent role in our Nation’s history, have significant needs for capital improvements. However, in most cases these institutions cannot access traditional funding sources at reasonable interest rates. The HBCU Capital Financing Program provides HBCUs with access to low-cost financing to fund infrastructure improvements. This program has made low-interest loans available for capital improvements to some of the Nation’s most vulnerable institutions of higher education. These loans have allowed these institutions to make improvements to their capital stock, especially academic facilities and student living quarters. In order to limit the Federal Government’s exposure to incurring losses due to defaults and delinquencies, 5 percent of all loans are deposited in a pooled escrow account from which loan payments can be made in the event of defaults or delinquencies.

The HBCU Capital Financing Advisory Board, appointed by the Secretary, advises the Secretary and the Designated Bonding Authority (DBA) as to the most effective and efficient means of implementing the program. The DBA, also selected by the Secretary, assists with the operation of the HBCU Capital Financing Program, which includes raising bond capital, making loans to eligible institutions, charging interest, and providing for a schedule of repayments. Direct loans are financed through the Federal Financing Bank, and guaranteed loans are financed through the private market, with all loan payments fully insured by the Federal Government.

Federal Administration

Funds for this activity pay the Federal costs for administering the HBCU Capital Financing Program. The administrative costs for this program include the personnel compensation and benefits for 1 full-time equivalent (FTE) employee, overhead, and other administrative services. The FTE reported in this account reflects the Department's estimate of the staff time devoted to administering the program. This estimate does not include FTEs associated with the Department's centralized services, which are reflected in the Program Administration account in the Salaries and Expenses Overview. The major non-personnel costs include support for the HBCU Capital Financing Advisory Board and a contract with the DBA to provide technical assistance workshops.

Subsidy Costs

In the first 10 years that the HBCU Capital Financing Program operated, there were no delinquencies or defaults. The rigorous application and credit review process imposed by the Department and DBA was credited with ensuring that recipient institutions receiving loans would be able to comply with the terms of their loans. However, increases in financial instability by certain HBCUs have affected Federal liability in the program. Delinquency rates fluctuate widely from year to year, but the general trend is that HBCUs are facing financial strain. This is evidenced by Congress granting appropriations for loan deferments to private HBCUs in fiscal 2018 and 2019. Accordingly, default rate assumptions for the portfolio have been increased to reflect the heightened risk profile, resulting in an upward reestimate of existing loan subsidies in fiscal years 2017, 2018, and 2019. The 2020 budget request includes $20 million to continue to support loan deferments granted in 2018 or 2019 to eligible institutions who applied in 2018. While requesting funding necessary to complete previously authorized deferments, the 2020 budget request does not support funding for additional deferment authority.

Subsidy levels for the past 5 fiscal years were:

Fiscal Year	(dollars in thousands)
2015	$19,096
2016	20,150
2017	20,112
2018	30,150
2019	40,150

FY 2020 BUDGET REQUEST

The Department requests $40.5 million for the Historically Black College and University (HBCU) Capital Financing Program account for fiscal year 2020, $10 million more than the the fiscal year 2018 appropriation and level with the 2019 appropriation. The request includes $334,000 for administrative expenses and $20.2 million for new loan subsidy costs. In addition, the request includes $20 million for the fiscal year 2020 cost of a one-time cohort of loan deferments to eligible private HBCUs made in fiscal year 2018. The 2020 budget request does not support funding for additional deferment authority.

The $334,000 requested for administration will also be used to maintain technical assistance services. It is estimated that the requested subsidy amount will be sufficient to guarantee $212 million in new loans.

PROGRAM PERFORMANCE MEASURES

Performance Measures

This section presents selected program performance information, including, for example, GPRA goals, objectives, measures, and performance targets and data; and an assessment of the progress made toward achieving program results. Achievement of program results is based on the cumulative effect of the resources provided in previous years and those requested in fiscal year 2020 and future years, and the resources and efforts invested by those served by this program.

Goal: To improve loan recipients' overall financial stability and enhance their ability to attract, retain and educate students.

Objective: Total revenues and investment return will increase for loan recipients.

Measure: The percentage of borrowers who increase revenues and investment return annually.

Year	Target	Actual
2015	70	26
2016	70	44
2017	70	75
2018	70
2019	70
2020	70

Additional information: This performance measure is the percentage of HBCUs that experienced an increase in revenue over the prior year. This measure is one gauge of improved institutional financial stability and capability to fulfill their educational mission. Loans that fund capital and infrastructure improvements are key assets for providing quality postsecondary education. Some HBCUs have significant cash flow problems, which capital improvements from this program are expected to help ameliorate. Revenue is a strong indicator of an institution's success at maintaining or increasing enrollment, expanding fundraising activities, and, ultimately, the institution's financial stability. The ability to maintain or increase revenue suggests that an institution will be able to service its debts and maintain its operations. This measure helps to assess the financial solvency of borrowers, which is a gauge of default potential. This measure is calculated as the number of HBCUs in the program that have experienced an increase in revenue over the prior fiscal year, divided by the total number of HBCUs in the program, and multiplied by 100. The data source for total revenues is the National Center for Educational Statistics' Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System.

HISTORICALLY BLACK COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY CAPITAL FINANCING PROGRAM ACCOUNT

Goal: To improve the financial stability of recipient institutions.

Objective: Improve the delinquency rate of loan recipients.

Measure: The delinquency rate of loan recipients.

Year	Target	Actual
2015	14	36
2016	14	33
2017	14	29
2018	14	29
2020	14

Additional information: The delinquency rate—the percentage of loan payments received between 11-59 days after the due date—indicates the financial stability of borrowers. The more delinquent a borrower, the greater level of financial instability exists. The ability to make timely payments reduces the likelihood of default. It also indicates successful monitoring, technical assistance, and enforcement by the Department and the DBA in administering the program. The 2018 delinquency rate includes missed payments by schools that have since been granted a loan deferment.

Goal: To improve the capacity of program borrowers to improve student success and provide high-quality educational opportunities for their students.

Objective: Maintain or increase the persistence rate of first-year students at borrower institutions.

Measure: The full-time retention rate is the percent of the fall full-time cohort from the prior year minus exclusions from the fall full-time cohort that re-enrolled at the institution as either full or part-time in the current year.

Year	Target	Actual
2015	70	59
2016	71	58
2017	71	57
2018	71
2019	71
2020

Additional information: New and improved physical facilities can help an institution of higher education increase student persistence. Many of the loans have provided support for student housing, and many of the borrowers have explicitly cited the lack of adequate student housing and facilities as a reason for high attrition rates on their campuses in their loan applications. Historically, the persistence rate at HBCUs receiving loans through the capital finance program is about the same as at HBCUs overall. This measure relies on data taken from the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System maintained by the National Center for Education Statistics.
