

Data Notes
Consolidated State Performance Report

State: AZ
School Year: 2015-16
Part: 2

Question Number	Issue Description
2.11	According to the state, changes in the graduation rates of Hispanic students and Children with Disabilities are due to the removal of the AIMS test from their high school graduation requirements. Arizona indicated that the removal of the testing requirement may have impacted some subgroups more than others.