Gap Analysis

Gap analysis compares two things, to measure the difference between them. Often gap analysis helps in comparing two different states of something - the current state and the future state. Once the gap is identified, one can look for ways of bridging the gap.

Gap analysis is a method that Si Tanka University uses to measure the difference between its current, and anticipated future. This assumes it continues with its present strategies. It also means having a desired or targeted future state to compare with.

Team Goals (Where do we want to be?):

1. Alignment and shared vision among all University employees to achieve consistent service outcomes.
2. Standard instructional technology support options for STU.
3. Shared tools and resources to resolve instructional technology support issues.
4. Common knowledge repository for all instructional technology support staff.
5. Operational level agreements to establish accountability for University resources and processes.
6. Empower users by developing self-service options (training, knowledgebase, videos); calling support specialist should be the last resort option.
7. Create a shared support model between support staff and University employees.
8. Develop common reports and KPI to measure and track service trends.
9. Develop a comprehensive list of all available instructional technology systems and software and make it available for users.
10. Streamline end user communications by developing a communication plan to provide timely updates.

Current State Assessment (Where are we now?):

An in-depth assessment of the existing and planned instructional technology resources and support services (including hardware, software, personnel, support services, telephone support, chat support, online self-service resources, training support online, equipment loans, BYOD device support, evening and weekend technical support services, adaptive technology support, multimedia support, knowledge management, instructional technology evaluation support services incident and problem management) revealed several key themes and findings:

Finding I: University wide Learning Management Systems (Moodle) is managed and delivered from the University campus. University support staffs are primarily involved in providing front-line support including application administration, technical support and training services for University systems and specific resources.
Finding II: For the past several years, key instructional technology staff and faculty from the University offices have collaborated on various systems and practices including design, development, utilization, management, evaluation of technology processes and resources used for teaching and learning. As a result, regardless of the different organizational structures at the University, many of the systems and practices are mostly aligned.

Finding III: Students and Faculty enroll and teach in more than one department. Inconsistency with key instructional technology processes lends to increased confusion among instructional technology users.

Finding IV: Availability of funding and personnel resources varies in each department which causes differences and varying levels in instructional technology support services.

Proposed Actions (How do we get there?):

- Establish an instructional technology program review group made up of members of faculty and staff to create a plan focusing on continuous improvement assessment for instructional technology programs and support.
- Conduct an annual roadmap presentation in each department that provides vital insights on instructional technology plan and support.
- Create a responsibility assignment matrix and a shared communication plan/strategy to clearly identify roles accountability and lines of authority. The matrix and plan should be updated on an annual basis.
- Review current system access permissions and establish a shared administration support model with each system implementation where key individuals at the University are provided with elevated permissions to resolve end user issues.

Operational Support

- Create an official, common and shared knowledgebase repository for all instructional technology operational staff within the central service management solution. The knowledgebase will only be accessed by Instructional Technology support staff. Establish a collaborative process to regularly update, expand and refine content within the knowledgebase.
- Create a single SharePoint repository for use by all Instructional Technology operational support staff to share standard operating procedures, key contact lists, communication plans, support, training courses, process maps, flow charts, videos and support guides.
- Define a process and a template to document all standard operating procedures related to Instructional Technology.

Faculty Support

- Develop a common and shared eLearning website for all Faculty members that clearly describe available support options, events, opportunities, projects, staff contacts, hours of operation, etc.
• Develop a Footprints workspace to document all Instructional Technology issues. Create a standard operating procedure to track all service management issues. Establish a weekly process to review outstanding problems. Use the collected data to drive decisions and priorities.
• Create an interactive knowledgebase for faculty members that includes feedback mechanisms.

Student Support

• Develop a common and shared eLearning website for all students that clearly describes available support options, events, opportunities, projects, staff contacts, hours of operation, etc.
• Create an interactive knowledgebase for students that include feedback mechanisms.
• Create a standard online orientation program for all STU students who are new to taking online courses.
• To improve students' technology proficiency and student success, create an online and a face-to-face computer literacy workshop using a common and shared curriculum for all STU students.

Conclusion

The gap analysis activity was a combined effort of key University Information Technology, Distance Education and Instructional Technology stakeholders. This collaborative effort allowed the team to review available resources, brainstorm objectives, identify shortcomings and define a plan of action to bridge the gaps.
Future Plan

The entire planning process, from its inception, has been formed by the University’s Institutional Improvement Plan Document. The fundamental purpose of that document was to provide a view of our aspirations for Si Tanka University in the year 2020. It has served, in a sense, as the “constitution” for the change and planning initiatives at STU, enabling us to measure our plans against a coherent sense of direction and goals. It is, of course, likely that we will reaffirm most—if not all—of that document, but the process of review and rethinking is itself essential to the ongoing vitality of our efforts.

At the same time, in the many discussions revolving around strategic planning that have taken place in the past year, it is evident that we have a shared inventory of concrete expectations for the University’s future—a picture of what STU can and should be as we fulfill the promises that we have made to our students, to our alumni, and ultimately to ourselves. That picture, while perhaps not sufficiently focused in many of these discussions, ultimately has had a profound influence on the nature of our priorities, decision-making, and operational behavior.

The complete inventory of our collective picture for STU’s future—the details of “STU’s portrait” in the year 2020, is probably quite long, but the following comprise the core characteristics of the University five years from now that inform the ongoing planning process:

- Excellence is the defining characteristic of the STU experience for students at all levels; the University is nationally recognized for overall educational quality, and for specific centers of excellence.
- Si Tanka University plays a leadership role on the national level in the systematic and meaningful integration of online education with professional preparation, and in the meaningful integration of the academic program with student life and experiential learning.
- Education at STU University is characterized by a strong emphasis on interdisciplinary and international learning that prepares students to function effectively in an increasingly complex global environment.
- Si Tanka University has a constellation of international university partnerships that creates a broad range of learning and research opportunities for students, faculty, and staff.
- The University complements its emphasis on both graduate and undergraduate education focused on key distinctive strengths of the University and that respond to the needs of the region and the nation.
- The University addresses the learning and professional development needs of the country’s adult population through a variety of innovative models, including the STU Business Alliance, and a robust web-based distance learning program.
- The demographics of STU’s students, faculty, and staff reflect the rich diversity of the American population, and the STU educational process prepares students to function effectively in an environment characterized by difference.
• The University’s budget is characterized by integrity, based on conservative assumptions about projected revenue and expenses and on long-term planning; the University’s resource allocation is consistent with strategic priorities.

• Decision-making at all levels is driven by institutional goals (as identified in the Institutional Improvement Plan) and by our shared values as a community.

• The operating behavior of the University is characterized by transparency and effective communications, and grounded in a culture of assessment.
The Challenges Ahead

As noted earlier, it is essential that the Institutional Improvement Plan position the University to manage—and to exploit—the challenges ahead. Institutional Improvement Plan 2014 - 2017 identified the following as the core set of challenges facing STU University:

• Budget
• Student enrollment
• Increasing competition
• Diversity
• Technology

At the same time, our successes in completing many of the tasks identified in Institutional Improvement Plan 2014 - 2017, as well as changes in circumstances (both internal and external), have led us, in many ways, to more nuanced definitions of the many issues that must play a role in our deliberations, and that ultimately have to be managed as we go forward. These challenges, and in subsequent discussions by the Advisory Committee and the Board of Directors, include:

• Continue to increase the intellectual vitality of the University and the integration of student life with learning
• Develop and implement a robust assessment infrastructure
• Address the challenges imposed by DEAC accreditation standards
• Develop a concrete plan regarding enrollment capacity, ideal size, growth in selected areas, and recruitment strategies
• Manage resources and expenses effectively
• Manage expectations and develop effective campus communications
• In addition, there are two challenges—meta-issues—that relate to the plan itself, and that we must manage successfully if the overall process is to yield the results that we desire:
  • Ensure that our plan and our vision become a reality
  • Develop a culture of strategic behavior

In this STU Institutional Improvement Plan 2014 – 2017, it describes a comprehensive set of objectives and tasks designed to realize the University’s vision for the future, meet the goals that we have set for ourselves, and manage in a productive manner the challenges that we face.
Monitor – Evaluation

Strategic planning pays dividends to institutions when approached in a disciplined process with top-down support and bottom-up participation. At Si Tanka University, the evaluation process needs to be ongoing and continuous. It provides a clinical check-up on the progress of the University compared to both the near term Action Plan and the long-term Institutional Improvement Plan; and a timeframe to determine if the hurdles set up through the scorecard are being met. In addition, the evaluation process provides a time to determine if results are still meaningful and do they add to the goals of continuous improvement for the University and add real value to its students?

During the strategic planning process there was a constant focus on both the internal and external factors impacting STU. During the evaluation process there needs to be a continuous measurement of the circumstances both inside and outside of the University. Significant changes in conditions or in performance signal the need to consider adaptation to the near term Action Plan to steer the business back on the course set by the Institutional Improvement Plan and the Scorecard. Any changes in the near term Action Plan must still conform to the parameters of the long term Institutional Improvement Plan.

In cases where the changes cannot be accommodated in the near term Action Plan then consideration for Institutional Improvement Plan changes are likely called for. In this case a repeat of part of all of the strategic planning process will help to get the business back on course and in a position to meet its goals and satisfy student needs.

At Si Tanka University, changes in the Institutional Improvement Plan are normally driven only by significant changes in the external or internal conditions identified in the strategic planning process or by some new material condition in the business environment. Minor or insignificant changes in the marketplace can usually be addressed by changes in the near term Action Plan.

In cases of significant changes it may be necessary to revamp the Institutional Improvement Plan. These types of significant changes in the business environment are less common in traditional product and educational institutions and more common in high technology, new technology of rapidly changing market conditional situations. The process of evaluation of the Institutional Improvement Plan needs to be ongoing. It calls for attention and sensitivity to the environment inside and outside of Si Tanka University. It is the responsibility of both the Executives and Middle Management to keep tuned in to conditions and to sound the signal when significant occurrences are identified or anticipated.

The Evaluation Process is best conducted with both a formal and informal component. The formal component may be a quarterly, or other timely period, evaluation of conditions. The informal process is the discipline of the faculty and staff to have conversations or email exchanges with students. It is a continuous process of benchmarking both inside and outside of the University, including institutions not in a directly competitive set; and it is being sensitive to changing conditions within the University.

The on-going Evaluation Process is the early warning system for the University. A well established formal and informal process and practice in this area can be of significant value to the University. It keeps the near term Action Plan on tract and the long term Institutional Improvement Plan vital and effective in steering the University through constant environmental change while delivering consistent and predictable results.

The final decision that comes out of the Evaluation Process is to determine the extent to which the Institutional Improvement Plan and Scorecard needs adjustment to continue to be effective as a working tool keeping STU on course. The final test is to determine if the University is meeting the expected results for the administrators, faculty, staff and most importantly, the students.
Summary

The Si Tanka University Institutional Improvement Plan for 2014 – 2017 reflects the University’s vision for implementation of an open-laboratory strategy that enables thinking across interdisciplinary, cultural, and geographic boundaries; swift translation of ideas into action; leveraging of funding resources; and innovation through engagement and collaboration with student, faculty, staff, business, industry, and community partners.

This three-year plan is intended to leverage STU’s numerous strengths while aggressively confronting the challenges faced. The University’s direction and progress are reflected in the proposed implementation of several transformational strategies that relate to specific University-wide initiatives consistent with:

- Si Tanka University President’s major imperatives: excellence; student engagement; diversity/demographics; student career success and economic development; accessibility; and technology.
- University Academic Dean’s pillars of strategic planning: promoting University programs; securing our resources; transforming education; building our digital future; and valuing and exploring our cultures.
- The University’s progress toward/responses to University-wide learning outcomes, strategic performance indicators, diversity efforts, academic advisors’ recommendations, ethical behavior, sustainability, and budget planning.

Dear Mr. Harris:

A copy of the report prepared by the Council’s evaluation team that recently visited your institution is attached. The Council invites you to respond to this report in two ways before it takes formal action on your institution’s application for accreditation. First, please acknowledge that you have received and read the report and include any comments about the report or the visit by uploading your acknowledgment and comments in the online application and selecting the label “Acknowledgment of Visit Report.” Second, please submit your response to the findings in the report via your online application under “Citations.” The Council offers the institution ten days to formally respond to the report; therefore, your response should be uploaded by the date indicated above.

We look forward to receiving your response. You will be notified in writing of the Council’s decision following its next meeting.

Visit Response
Your response should pertain to the findings notated in the report or letter. The following information provides suggestions for developing your response. Please include information on any significant changes that have taken place at the institution since the site visit.

Web-Based Submission of Campus Response
ACICS has implemented a web-based submission process for all visit responses. The response to each finding must be uploaded under the application ID number associated with the visit (this is noted on the cover page of the team report). Each finding must include a narrative and supporting documentation (if applicable). If supporting documentation covers more than one finding, the campus is required to duplicate the documentation and upload it in each finding. Submission of a current catalog need only be uploaded once and only if referenced in the response. If you have any questions, please send your inquiry to Linda Lundberg at llundberg@acics.org.

Process:
Once the campus logs on to the ACICS membership website, go to the “In Process Applications” heading, select the application name and ID. The campus will then click either “Citation Documents” and upload each response document as described below. (Please see the attached “Preparing the Institutional Response” for step-by-step visual instructions on how to upload your response into your institution’s Member Center Account.)

IMPORTANT: Document Labels
The institution may name the document any appropriate file name. However, each document must be labeled with the corresponding ‘Document Type.’

Example: the document type submitted to satisfy response:
Finding 1 Narrative task must be labeled Narrative 1.

If a campus needs to submit multiple pieces of information to support one citation response, this information should be combined into one document prior to uploading. Note: The capacity size for each upload task is 100MB, if this combined document exceeds this limit, then the campus may separate the document and upload each of these documents separately with different file names, as long they are labeled with the correct “Document Type.”

Response Tasks
Below is the format for how the listing of “Document Type” will appear once the document is uploaded. Each visit type will have a standard amount of visit Response tasks. Upload your response document and label each one accordingly. Ignore tasks that exceed your response requirement.

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Narrative 2</td>

Responses should be professional in appearance. The responses should be paginated and well-organized to ensure a complete and sufficient review.

Sincerely,

Linda J. Lundberg

INTRODUCTION

Si Tanka University, Inc., located at 5000 Broadband Lane, Suite 123, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, is a private co-educational institution incorporated under the laws of the state of South Dakota. The corporation operates a main campus in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. The campus operates under the guidelines and policies established by its board of directors.

Dr. Xulong Dai founded Si Tanka University in 2010 to provide career education for those seeking a more secure financial future. The name Si Tanka University was used by another university, which was closed in 2006. The university was named after the Indian chief Big Foot (Si Tanka in Lakota language) of the Teton Sioux. The students are from many parts of the world, primarily Asia.

The campus is located in a two-story office building that also houses a dental office, counseling office, and a lawyer office. The facility has 1,002 square feet on the ground and second floor of an office building. There are two offices and three classrooms; one of them is used as a computer lab. On the second floor, there is a conference room for 20, which allows STU an additional classroom. Each classroom can accommodate up to 10 students. With the current student population, the space is adequate. One of the two administrative offices is used as the president's office, business office, and admissions office. The other office is used as the academic office and registration office. The library section is in the hallway outside the academic office. There are 107 parking spaces in front of the business. The campus shares the building with the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA). The lease will expire in August 2017, and the decision to move or stay in the same location will be determined by the enrollment at that time.

At the time of the visit there were 50 students enrolled. The campus offers bachelor's degrees in finance, management, computer science, and management information systems and master's degrees in finance, management, and computer science. Based on the most recent data available to the team, the 2016-2017 Campus Effectiveness Plan (CEP) reports the student population as 67 percent male and 33 percent female. The ethnicity of the student population is 87 percent Asian or Pacific Islander, 3 percent Caucasian or White, non-Hispanic, 2 percent African-American or Black, non-Hispanic, 2 percent Hispanic, 2 percent American Indian or Alaska Native, and the remaining Undisclosed. The majority of the students - 44 percent - are in the age group 22-29.

The team did not evaluate the distance education program. In discussions with the campus administration, it was determined that the existing policies, procedures, and operations did not meet Council standards with regard to distance education. The campus was not utilizing the online platform for distance education, rather correspondence was being conducted via e-mail for individualized instruction, which is more compatible with that of an independent study. The administration of the campus made the decision to not have the distance education program evaluated at this time. The campus advised the team that they would further investigate ACICS standards with regard to distance education and apply for approval at a later date.

As a result of not evaluating the distance education program, the administration determined that the courses were online independent study courses. When the team reviewed the courses utilizing the ACICS definition of independent study, numerous issues were noted with regard to campus compliance to Council standards. This issue is further explained in section 8.

The campus had one program that did not meet Council standards for placement in the 2016 Campus Accountability Report CAR. The master's degree in management had a placement rate of 50 percent. The CEP included an appropriate improvement plan.

The call for comments section and student surveys did not indicate any systemic issues with the campus.

There were 54 student files reviewed during the evaluation.

4.02 How does the campus ensure that its student relations reflect high ethical standards?
The campus engages with the student periodically during their enrollment. Each semester the staff hosts a pizza party with the students, provides community opportunities for the students to participate in, as well as informs students of organizations they may join to further their degree.

4.03 Describe the admissions criteria.
Provisional admission status may be granted upon the recommendation of an academic department. If this is the case, a student’s official admission will not be completed until the campus receives documents such as financial statements and proofs of English proficiency (international students), recommendation letters, and official transcripts. While a student who is admitted provisionally will be allowed to enroll for his/her first semester, all admission provisions must be cleared by the end of the first semester of enrollment. If students fail to clear their provisional status by the end of the first enrolled semester, an administrative hold will be placed on their academic record, preventing their registration for a future semester, and their student status may be revoked. The campus reserves the right to refuse admission to an applicant if it appears that this action is in the best interest of the applicant and/or the campus.

Undergraduate Admissions include the following:
- Completed/signed application form;
- Non-refundable $75 application fee;
- Secondary or high school transcript
- Test results of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Program (ACT) (for reference and guidance) (Optional)
- College transcripts
- Two letters of recommendation from the applicant’s principal, teachers, employers or guidance counselor

Graduate Admission requires the following:
Application for admission must be submitted to the Admissions Office. Admission requirements include the following:

- Completed/signed application form;
- Non-refundable $75 application fee;
- College transcripts;
- A bachelor's degree from an accredited institution or the equivalent from a foreign college or university;
- A 2.5 G.P.A or above. If an applicant's undergraduate G.P.A. is less than 2.5, extensive review and approval from the Admissions Committee is required.
- Two letters of recommendation from the applicant's principal, teachers, employers, or guidance counselor.
- If potential graduate students have taken the GMAT or GRE and submit their scores, this will enhance the opportunity for admissions.

Is the admissions process appropriate?

☑ Yes ☐ No

4.04 What evidence is there to document that admissions criteria are applied consistently to all students admitted under the same version of the admissions criteria (e.g., that students admitted into specific programs for the same start date are admitted under the same admissions criteria)?

The student files have all of the required documentation appropriate to the applicable enrollment date, as outlined in the campus's admission policy.

4.05 Does the campus contract with third parties for admissions and recruiting purposes?

☐ Yes ☑ No

4.06 Does the admissions policy conform to the campus’s mission?

☑ Yes ☐ No

4.07 Is the admissions policy publicly stated?

☑ Yes ☐ No

4.08 Is the admissions policy administered as written?

☐ Yes ☑ No

If No, insert the section number in parentheses and explain:

(Section 3-I-411(a)): The admissions policy is not administered as written. Per the admissions policy a requirement for admissions is, "a secondary or high school transcript…or college transcript." All of the undergraduate student files reviewed by the team had foreign transcripts, either high school or college, that had not been evaluated as per ACICS Accreditation Criteria by a recognized agency.

For graduate students admissions requirements include, "have a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution or the equivalent from a foreign college or university." In the team review of graduate files, all students had college transcripts from foreign institutions that had not been evaluated for United States degree equivalency by an approved organization.
4.09 Does the campus use an enrollment agreement for each enrolled student that:

(a) Clearly outlines the financial obligations of both the institution and the student?
   ☒ Yes ☐ No

(b) Outlines all program-related tuition and fees?
   ☒ Yes ☐ No

(c) Has a signature of the student and the appropriate school representative?
   ☐ Yes ☒ No

If No for any item, insert the section number in parentheses and explain:

(Section 3-1-414): All of the student files reviewed were missing the appropriate school representative signature on the enrollment agreement. Additionally, the following errors were found in the enrollment agreements:

- For master's degree, the enrollment agreement (EA) indicated the required grade point average (GPA) for graduation is 2.00 when it should be 3.00 as outlined in the catalog and per ACICS standards.

- The EA degree name and the identified program of instruction differ from the program name in the narrative. “Program of Instruction” differs from the program title in the narrative description. For example, an EA agreement has the title of the program “Bachelor of Business Administration in Management.” The EA includes personal information (name, address, phone number, birthdate and “Program of Instruction.” The program of instruction has the title “Bachelor of Business in Management.” The next section would be a narrative description of the program and begins with a statement identifying “A Bachelor of Science in Computer Science.”

How does the campus evidence that a copy of the agreement has been provided to the student?
The student must initial the enrollment agreement confirming receipt of the document.

If there is no evidence that a copy has been provided to the student, insert the section number in parentheses and explain:

(Section 3-1-414): Most of the files reviewed did not include the student initials to confirm receipt of the enrollment agreement.

4.10 Describe the recruiting process for new students.

Most students are recruited for enrollment through the campus website or student referral. The admission director has recently started to attend college fairs and to schedule meetings with local high schools to increase the institution’s visibility and improve enrollment.

Based on interviews, observations, and a review of recruitment materials, is the process compatible with the educational objectives for the campus?
   ☒ Yes ☐ No

4.11 Are individuals engaged in admissions or recruitment activities communicating current and accurate information regarding the following:

(a) Courses and programs?

(c) Services?
   ☑ Yes    ☐ No

(d) Tuition?
   ☑ Yes    ☐ No

(e) Terms?
   ☑ Yes    ☐ No

(f) Operating policies?
   ☑ Yes    ☐ No

If Yes, describe how communication to students of the above items is evidenced:
All students are required to come to campus once the application has been submitted if the student wants to enroll. At this time, the student meets with admissions to discuss interest and complete the enrollment paperwork, goes over program information, costs, and time required for degree completion.

4.12 Who is responsible for oversight of recruitment and does the campus supervise its recruiters to ensure that their activities are in compliance with all applicable standards?
Dr. [Name] has the oversight responsibilities of campus recruitment.

4.13 Describe the documentation that the institution maintains to demonstrate that it systematically monitors its recruitment activities (i.e. recorded calls, secret shopper results, training materials, remediation efforts, etc.).
The team was provided a “student recruitment handbook” that identifies quick facts, admissions requirements, communications and record keeping, information on cost of attendance, and report templates and scripts. The team was not able to verify the template is an active document and have no information to support it is monitored.

If the institution does not maintain this documentation, insert the section number in parentheses and explain:
(Section 3-1-412(a)): The campus has no documentation to support the systematic monitoring of its recruitment activities.

4.14 Does the campus use prospective student names obtained as a result of a survey, canvass, or promise of future employment or income while a student, or as a result of other marketing activity?
☐ Yes    ☑ No

If Yes, is the name of the campus clearly identified, and is there evidence that the reason for usage of the 4.15 Does the state in which the campus operates require representatives to be licensed or registered?

☐ Yes    ☑ No

4.16 Are the titles of recruitment and enrollment personnel appropriate?
☑ Yes    ☐ No

4.17 Describe the policies and procedures for evaluating and accepting transfer credit and the evidence reviewed to support their consistent application:
Si Tanka University welcomes applications from transfer students from other higher education institutions. STU’s policy is to help each incoming student transfer the maximum number of applicable credits, minimizing course repetition and ensuring appropriate course selection.

The STU transfer policies are as follows:

- Minimal acceptable grades are: ‘C’ for undergraduate and ‘B’ for master’s programs.
- Si Tanka University does not discriminate credit transfer on the source of accreditation of the sending institution.
- Types of courses that will be considered, including any courses offered outside of an institutional setting, are such as those offered by the military, in the workplace, through apprenticeship and/or training programs, or other such programs recognized by the American Council on Education’s Center for Adult Learning and Education Credentials programs.
- Si Tanka University accepts earning credit through examinations such as the ACT Proficiency Examination Program (PEP), the College Board’s Advanced Placement (AP) program and College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), the Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) Subject Standardized Testing (DSST), widely accepted industry certification, or institution-developed tests.
- To be eligible for transfer credit, official transcripts must be submitted to the Office of Admissions by the end of the student’s first semester of study. Students must submit all official college transcripts from each college attended prior to STU. Transcripts must be in English. The student is responsible for providing official translations from an appropriate, competent third party service; or are translated into English by a trained, qualified transcript evaluator fluent in the original language on the transcript.
- Si Tanka University will only accept credits within the most recent 7 years or fewer. The maximum numbers of credit transfer are:
  - Undergraduate Degrees: A maximum of three-fourths of the credits required may be awarded for transfer credit or a combination of transfer credit and experiential or equivalent credit (including challenge/test-out credits). For no student, however, may the credit given for experiential or equivalent learning (including challenge/test out credits) exceed one-fourth of the credits required for a degree.
  - Master’s Degrees: A maximum of one-half of the credits required for master’s degrees may be given through transfer credit or a combination of transfer credit and experiential or equivalent credit (including challenge/test out credits). For no student, however, may the credit given for experiential or equivalent learning (including challenge/test out credits) exceed one-fourth of the credits required for a degree.

4.18 Does the campus disclose in its catalog its transfer of credit policies, including policies related to accepting transfer credit from another campus?

FOR MASTER’S DEGREE PROGRAMS ONLY

4.20 What is the maximum permissible number of transfer credits into the program?
The campus accepts no more than 50 percent of program requirements as transfer credit.

FOR ALL PROGRAMS

8.01 Is licensure, certification, or registration required to practice in the specific career field?
   ☐ Yes   ☑ No (Skip to 8.02)

8.02 Who is assigned to administer the academic program(s) listed above, and what are this person’s qualifications?
   Dr. [Name] is department chair for the computer science and management information systems department. Dr. [Name] holds a PhD in computer science from Virginia Commonwealth University. Dr.
Salman is a published author in industry journals such as Communication in Computer and Information Science and the International Journal of Information Technology, as well as several international journals.

8.03 Does this individual possess appropriate academic or experiential qualifications?
☒ Yes ☐ No

8.04 Describe what evidence there is that the program administrator has sufficient authority and responsibility for the development and administration of the educational program(s).

Both Dr. [REDACTED] and the administration report open channels of communication; and although no specific examples of requests were documented, neither party could recall a request ever being denied. Faculty and students agreed that all was well in this area.

8.05 Are the time and resources devoted to the administration of the educational program(s) sufficient?
☒ Yes ☐ No

8.06 Does the program meet the needs of its students and the requirements of the Council, as shown by student achievement outcomes which meet or exceed the standards for the following areas:

(a) Student retention rate of 65 percent (programs >1 year in length) OR 70 percent (programs ≤ 1 year in length)?
☒ Yes ☐ No ☐ Not Applicable (Data not available.)

(b) Student placement rate of 70 percent?
☒ Yes ☐ No ☐ Not Applicable (Data not available.)

8.07 Does the program utilize a variety of community resources to enhance student achievement and potential career opportunities?
☒ Yes ☐ No

If Yes, list the community resources and describe how they enhance student enrichment and potential career opportunities.

Si Tanka University (STU) is on the mailing list of several South Dakota business entities (e.g., Dakota Seeds, South Dakota Chamber of Commerce, and Economic Development, and South Dakota Trade Center). STU hosted several guest speakers throughout the year (e.g., [REDACTED] VP of Advancement Dakota Resources (twice) and [REDACTED] an artist, designer, and storyteller).

8.08 Does the catalog and/or other advertising material such as brochures and the campus web site, accurately describe the program, its objectives, and its potential occupational outcomes?
☐ Yes ☒ No

If No, insert the section number in parentheses and explain:
(Section 3-1-703 & Appendix C): The catalog does not correctly identify the programs offered. Per ACICS, the campus is approved for four bachelor’s degree programs and three master’s degree programs. The campus catalog identifies two bachelor’s degree programs and two master’s degree programs. See 6.11 in the Publications section of this report for expanded details.
8.09 Does the program include an externship?
- Yes
- No (Skip to 8.10.)

- Yes
- No

If No, insert the section number in parentheses and explain:

(Section 3-1-513(a) and Glossary): There is no evidence of written learning contracts being executed between student and faculty for independent study. Upon arrival for the accreditation review, the campus was seeking accreditation for both on-ground and online programs -- the online option being offered as a distance education component. After further review of the online instructional components (i.e., the learning management system, technology, syllabus, etc.), it was determined that the campus did not meet the ACICS definition of distance education. However, evaluating the online components under the definition of independent study, the campus did not meet the requirements either because of (a) lack of a learning contract, (b) instruction does not require a high level of independence and self-direction, and (c) independent study classes should be the exception and not the rule, but 100 percent of the enrolled students participate in independent study classes.

At the time of visit, 50 students were enrolled. The campus offered 49 different courses, of those 49, 32 were offered online and 17 were offered on ground. However, as noted earlier in the introduction of this report, the campus was using their online format, which consisted of students e-mailing faculty their assignments, as independent studies. The campus responded by stating they wanted to assure students were continually progressing in their curriculum.

(b) Well-defined instructional objectives.

Learning objectives are well articulated and break down tasks focusing on specific cognitive process in alignment with Bloom’s taxonomy. Learning objectives are developed around five central themes:
• Building core knowledge and skills to provide grounding in the specialty field.
• Developing mastery and experience in research theories, methodologies, and practices.
• Exploring issues in and approaches to assessment and measurement.
• Understanding diversity and how to modify procedures and approaches to affect positive change in learners of all cultural backgrounds.
• Cultivating professionalism through professional activities and demonstrated awareness of the standards and ethical guidelines of the field.

(c) The selection and use of appropriate and current learning materials.

Develop Detailed Curricula

As a result of the curricula planning session, performance objectives are finalized for each content area, instructional strategies are developed for each performance objective, and as a result, lesson plans, participant materials and training aids are developed by the team to guide participants to successfully meet the expected program outcomes, and module performance objectives. Learning materials consist of textbooks, PowerPoints, videos, test banks, and other materials. [Note: after interviewing students from two classes, two on-ground instructors, and the online portal, we were unable to retrieve, view, or assess any instructional materials. Students noted they did not have access to or possess the course textbooks, and although PowerPoints were mentioned frequently, no students could produce examples].

(d) Appropriate modes of instructional delivery.

Classrooms are equipped with technological resources of a wide variety. In addition to the in-class technological support modes, an online course management system is available for additional channels of class involvement.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Any recommendations provided in this report are not included in the report seen by the Council:

The evaluation team offers the following recommendations for the campus's consideration.

Relations with Students

The team recommends the campus create a chart to identify the SAP standards that defines the effects of grades, program changes, additional credentials, and transfer credit on cumulative grade point average and the established successful course-completion percentage.

The team recommends the campus retain SAP reports to validate the review of student progress at the end of each semester. For students who are not making progress or may be in jeopardy of making progress, documentation the student has been notified should also be maintained in the student's file. Documentation may include a letter or e-mail to the student identifying the progress issue(s) and what the student needs to do to be sure progress is met. If an academic plan is provided to the student, this document should also retained to validate notification to the student.

Bachelor’s Degree in Computer Science
Bachelor’s Degree in Management Information Systems
Master’s Degree in Computer Science

The team observed the minimum system requirements listed on the website are in need of update. While it is possible that a 56k modem might be possible for students to use, it would certainly be a poor student experience.

Dear ACICS Council Members:

This letter is to acknowledge that I have received the Si Tanka University INITIAL GRANT VISIT REPORT and have shared it with Dr. Adam Yang, Academic Dean and ACICS Accreditation Coordinator. Both Dr. Yang and I have thoroughly read and discussed the Report and have shared and discussed it with the appropriate staff and faculty who participated in the Team visit.

We felt the visit went well mainly due to the professional, courteous and flexible ACICS Team headed by Dr. Tommy Mosely and staff member Ms. Kathryn Sellers. The entire Team was respectful of our students, staff and faculty and did their best not to upset the Si Tanka daily routine. They did a good job explaining the ACICS criteria and where our strengths and shortcomings are. We had some good two-way communication between the Si Tanka team and the ACICS team which produced a positive learning experience for us.

I would like to point out on page 4, Table 1: Placement Rates, the total number of Verified as Placed should be a total of 10 and the total of Unable to Verify should be 1, according to my addition. Thank you for checking this out. After digesting the REPORT and discussing it with the Si Tanka team, we feel it was a fair and helpful document.

Si Tanka University looks forward to becoming an ACICS accredited school.

Sincerely yours,

Harold L. Harris, LCSW, DCSW

Form W-4 (2015)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2015 expires February 16, 2016. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. If another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return, you cannot claim exemption from withholding if your income exceeds $1,050 and includes more than $300 of earned income (for example, interest and dividends).

• Exemptions. An employee may be able to claim exemption from withholding even if the employee is a dependent, if the employee:
  is age 65 or older,
  is blind, or
  will claim adjustments to income tax credits; or itemized deductions on his or her tax return.

The exceptions do not apply to supplemental wages greater than $1,000,000.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on pages 2 and 3 will assist you in determining your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two or more multiple jobs situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages, withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you can claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 505, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet. See Pub. 505 for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwaiver income. If you have a large amount of nonwaiver income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax. If you have pension or annuity income, see Pub. 505 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or W-4P.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 505 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 9355, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 505 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2015. See Pub. 505, especially if your earnings exceed $100,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Future developments. Information about any future developments affecting Form W-4 (such as legislation enacted after we revised it) will be posted at www.irs.gov/w4.

• Is age 65 or older,
• Is blind, or
• Will claim adjustments to income; tax credits; or itemized deductions, on his or her tax return.

The exceptions do not apply to supplemental wages greater than $1,000,000.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After filing your Form W-4, tax withholding on your paycheck will change. Your withholding may be too low or too high. B Enter "2" if:

• Your spouse works one or more jobs at times when your earnings do not exceed $1,500, and your total income is still less than $1,500.

C Enter "1" for your spouse. But, you may choose to enter "-0-" if you are married and have either a working spouse or more than one job. (Entering "-0-" may help you avoid having too little tax withheld)

D Enter number of dependents (other than your spouse or yourself) you will claim on your tax return. D 0

• Enter "1" if:
• You are married, have only one job, and your spouse does not work; or
• Your spouse works one or more jobs at times when your earnings do not exceed $1,500, and your total income is still less than $1,500.

E Enter "1" if you will file as head of household on your tax return (see conditions under Head of household above)

F Enter "1" if you have at least $2,000 of child or dependent care expenses for which you plan to claim a credit. (Note: Do not include child support payments. See Pub. 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses, for details)

G Child Tax Credit (including additional child tax credit). See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

• If your total income will be between $70,000 and $84,000 (Single) or $100,000 and $119,000 (Married) and you meet the requirements for the two-earners/multiple jobs worksheet, see Pub. 505 for information on computing your combined total for child tax credit.

H Add lines A through G and enter total here. (Note: This may be different from the number of exemptions you claim on your tax return.) H 4

For accuracy, complete all worksheets that apply.

If your plan to itemize or claim adjustments to income and want to reduce your withholding, see the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet on page 2.

If you are single and have more than one job or are married and you and your spouse both work and the combined earnings from all jobs exceed $50,000 ($25,000 if married), see the Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet on page 2 to avoid having too little tax withheld.

If neither of the above situations applies, step here and enter the number from line H on line 5 of Form W-4 below.

Form W-4 (2010)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2010 expires February 16, 2011. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note. You cannot claim exemption from withholding if (a) your income exceeds $560 and includes more than $500 of unearned income (for example, interest and dividends) and (b) another person can claim you as a dependent on his or her tax return.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earners/multiple jobs situations.

Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances. For regular wages, withholding must be based on allowances you claimed and may not be a flat amount or percentage of wages.

Head of household. Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 505, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax, if you have pension or annuity income, see Pub. 919 to find out if you should adjust your withholding on Form W-4 or W-4P.

Two earners or multiple jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others. See Pub. 919 for details.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see Notice 1392, Supplemental Form W-4 Instructions for Nonresident Aliens, before completing this form.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 919 to see how the amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2010. See Pub. 919, especially if your earnings exceed $180,000 (Single) or $180,000 (Married).

Narrative 2: Once it was pointed out that undergraduate students had not provided Si Tanka with proof they had received a high school diploma or its equivalent, the staff took immediate action. We emailed each student and attached an Affidavit requesting they fill the affidavit out, sign and date it and either bring it when they came to class or mail it to Si Tanka. We told the students the original would be kept in their file and we gave them a copy. Beginning with the Spring 2017 term the Admissions and Registrar's offices will make sure the student files have documentation that each undergraduate has a high school diploma or its equivalent. Copies of the email and affidavits have been uploaded as documentation.

Supporting Document 2: Email to students & signed and dated affidavits.

If you do not have any questions, please print your full name on the first line, sign where it says, “Student signature” then date the affidavit. Please send it to Si Tanka University at 5000 S. Broadband Ln, Suite 123, Sioux Falls, SD 57108 or bring the affidavit when you come to class.

Thank you for your co-operation

Sincerely yours
