Student Arrangements: The Queens College Extension Center located at 25 W43rd Street was in operation during the 1990s (and perhaps even earlier) and served largely members of various municipal labor unions who sought to obtain their graduate degrees. The QC Department of Urban Studies developed the curriculum and provided faculty instructors for the MA Urban Affairs program. In the late 1990s, the Queens College Extension Center was renamed the Murphy Institute Worker Education Center and the collaboration with QC's Department of Urban Studies continued until 2016 when departmental faculty no longer taught courses at the W43rd Street location of the Murphy Institute. The Murphy Institute then evolved into the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies.
