1 OVERVIEW

The United States Department of Education's College Financing Plan, shown in Figure 1-1, is a consumer tool that institutions can use to notify students about their financial aid package. The Department's "College Financing Plan" is a standardized form. It is designed to simplify the information that prospective students receive about costs and financial aid so that they can easily compare institutions and make informed decisions about where to attend school.

1.1 Introduction

This Technical Reference Guide provides programmer specifications and record layouts for vendors and/or institutions that choose to adopt the College Financing Plan. This guide offers a methodical approach, rather than a task-oriented approach, to implementing the tool. It is intended for users who are already familiar with, or interested in using, the College Financing Plan as a supplement or replacement to the institution's existing award letter.

The framework/structure of the College Financing Plan is designed using Hypertext Markup Language (HTML), and the actual file containing the HTML code is provided by the U.S. Department of Education. This document will give you a better understanding of the various elements required to produce and populate the applicable fields using the institution's existing data. In addition, this document assumes that the reader understands HTML, and has the required knowledge to edit the provided code.

Outlined below are the data elements in each section and the information required to produce and populate the College Financing Plan.

2.1 Student Information

This section contains information specific to the institution and the prospective student including the estimated cost of attendance, possible grant and scholarship aid, work options, loan options, and so on.

The data required to populate the Student Information section are provided by the institution. Table 2-1 outlines each "Subsection" and provides a "Description" of its intended use

Description
The prospective student's name and identifier (as assigned by the institution).
The month, day, and year that the College Financing Plan was created to notify the prospective student about their financial aid package.
The name of the institution providing the College Financing Plan.
This information is generated by the institution itself and should provide a clear understanding of the costs associated with one year of enrollment at the institution for the named student.
At most institutions, the expected family contribution is based on the FAFSA results; however, if an institutional methodology is used, that result may be provided.
This should include all financial aid options available to the named student to assist with the costs outlined above.

Table 2-1: Student Information Section

VA Education Benefits	Benefits that help Veterans, service members, and their qualified family members with needs like paying college tuition, finding the right school or training program, and getting career counseling.
College Costs You Will Be Required to Pay Net Price 	This number reflects the net cost of attendance for the named student after grants and scholarships are taken into account.
 Loan options Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan Grad Plus Federal Loan HRSA Loans Total Loan Options 	At most institutions, the recommended loan amounts for the named student are based on the FAFSA results; however, an institutional methodology may also be used.
 Other Options Tuition payment plan offered by the institution Non-Federal Private education loan, which you or your parent can apply for after passing a credit check Other Military or National Service Benefits 	Students may have other options to repay the remaining costs.
 Work options Work-Study hours per week (estimated) Assistantships 	At most institutions, the expected work award amounts for the named student are based on the FAFSA results; however, an institutional methodology may also be used.
Customized information	Institutions can use this section to add additional, customized information specific to the institution and the named student.
For more information and next steps Financial Aid Office Contact Information (Address, Telephone, and E-mail) 	Specific contact information for the institution's financial aid office including the address, telephone number, and e- mail address.
