

24

Macias, Wendy

From: [REDACTED]
ent: Monday, June 15, 2009 4:32 PM
To: negreg09
Subject: Future of higher education

Instead of making students pay high fees and deal with cut throat loan companies, how about you just start taxing students a % of their income after they graduate for 10 – 15 years to pay for their education.

As it stands now, unless I can file for bankruptcy in the future, I will never be done with my student loans and I will never be free. I may as well kill myself. I have no future.