Subject: Student loans

I am appalled that Congress removed standard consumer protections from Federally guaranteed student loans.

The student loan industry and its collection practices are nothing less than legal "juice loans". I started out with approximately $35,000 in loans and I now owe over $100,000. You may think I never made a payment but you would be wrong. I made regular payment for over 4 years. I have recently suffered job lose and I am recovering from cancer. I can get relief from most of my debt but not the largest, student loans.

Sincerely,
