Summary of changes: Creates a regulatory section that establishes, for loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2019, a new Federal standard applicable to borrower defense claims made by borrowers and for Department recovery actions against institutions. Under the proposed regulations, borrowers with an eligible Direct Loan would be entitled to a discharge (or recover amounts already paid) of all or a portion of the loan if the borrower establishes either: (1) an institutional misrepresentation, (2) a court judgment against an institution, or (3) a final judgment from an arbitrator or administrative tribunal against an institution. The proposed regulations would also describe in detail how a borrower establishes the basis for a claim.

Changes: See regulatory text below.

(Note to negotiators: Section 685.222 is a new section. For ease of readability and editing during negotiated rulemaking, the section is formatted as plain text. Changes made subsequent to the second session of negotiated rulemaking are noted in redlined text.)

(b) Borrower defense.

(1) For loans first disbursed on or after July 1, 2019, the Secretary will discharge the borrower’s obligation to repay a Direct Loan and will refund amounts paid on the loan, in whole or in part, less any amounts already refunded to the borrower from any source pursuant to section 685.206(d)(8), if the borrower establishes a defense by clear and convincing evidence that substantial weight of the evidence demonstrates that—

(i) The institution at which the borrower enrolled acted with an intent to deceive, knowledge of the falsity of a misrepresentation, or reckless disregard for the truth in making a misrepresentation of material fact, opinion, intention, or law upon which the borrower reasonably relied under the circumstances in deciding to obtain a Direct Loan to enroll or continue enrollment in a program at the institution, and which resulted in financial harm to the borrower;

(ii) The borrower has obtained, from a State or Federal court of competent jurisdiction, a nondefault final, definitive contested State or Federal judgment rendered in a contested proceeding and

(iv) For the purpose of (b)(1)(ii), a “final, definitive judgment rendered in a contested proceeding” includes a Proof of Claim filed against the bankruptcy estate of the institution once the claim is adjudicated in a contested matter or adversary proceeding, such that the claim is no longer contingent, disputed, or unliquidated in a case arising Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code, or allowed by a trustee in a case arising under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code.

(2) A borrower must file a borrower defense claim under paragraph (b)(1) of this section within three years of the date the borrower discovered, or reasonably should have discovered, the misrepresentation.

(23) The Secretary will find that the substantial weight of the evidence supports the approval of a borrower defense claim when the borrower’s statement is supported by corroborating evidence provided by the borrower or otherwise in the possession of the Secretary.

(24) For the purposes of this section—

(i) A “misrepresentation” is a statement, act, or omission by an eligible institution to a borrower that is intentionally false or misleading or made with a reckless disregard for the truth and that relates to the making of a Direct Loan for enrollment at the institution or the provision of educational services for which the loan was made that would mislead a reasonable person regarding the nature of the educational program, the nature of financial charges, the employability of graduates of an educational program, the eligibility of the educational program for licensure or certification, the State agency authorization or approval of the educational program, or an accreditor approval of an institution or educational program. Evidence that a misrepresentation described in paragraph (b)(1)(i) of this section has occurred includes, but is not limited to:

(A) Actual licensure passage rates materially different from those included in the institution’s marketing materials, website, or other communication made to the student;

(B) Actual job placement employment rates materially different from those included in the institution’s marketing materials, website, or other communication made to the student;

(C) The inclusion in the institution’s marketing materials, website, or other communication made to the student of specialized, programmatic, or institutional certifications, accreditation, or approvals not actually obtained or the failure to remove within a reasonable period of time such certifications or approvals from marketing materials, website, or other communication when invalidated or withdrawn;
(D) The inclusion in the institution’s marketing materials, website, or other communication made to the student of representations regarding the widespread or general transferability of credits that are only transferrable to limited types of programs or institutions or the transferability of credits to a specific program or institution when no reciprocal agreement exists with another institution or such agreement is materially different than what was represented;

(E) A representation regarding the employability or specific earnings of graduates without an agreement between the institution and another entity for such employment or sufficient evidence of past employment or earnings to justify such a representation;

(F) A representation regarding the availability, amount, or nature of any financial assistance available to students from the institution or any other entity to pay the costs of attendance at the institution that is not fulfilled following the enrollment of the borrower;

(G) A representation regarding the amount of tuition and fees that the student would be charged for the program that is materially different in amount, method, or timing of payment from the actual tuition and fees charged to the student;

(H) A representation that the institution, its courses, or programs are endorsed by vocational counselors, high schools, colleges, educational organizations, employment agencies, members of a particular industry, students, former students, or governmental officials, the United States armed forces, or other individuals or entities when the institution has no permission to use such an endorsement; s exist as stated;

(J) The nature or extent of prerequisites for enrollment in a course or program;

(K) Any other circumstances as determined by the Secretary; or

The Secretary will not approve a borrower defense claim under this section or section 685.206(c) of this Part when the borrower submits a claim based on—

(A) Personal injury;

(B) Sexual harassment;
(C) A violation of civil rights;

(D) Slander or defamation;

(E) Property damage claims;

(F) Educational malpractice, which is tortious claims about the general quality of the student’s education or the reasonableness of an educator’s conduct in providing educational services; or

Financial harm does not include damages for nonmonetary loss such as inconvenience, aggravation, emotional distress, pain and suffering, punitive damages, or opportunity costs. Financial harm is such monetary loss that is not predominantly due to intervening local, regional, or national economic or labor market conditions as demonstrated by evidence before the Secretary. Evidence of financial harm includes, but is not limited to the following circumstances:

(A) A significant difference between the borrower’s earnings after completing the program and the earnings listed for the borrower’s program of study in the institution’s marketing materials, website, or other communication made to the student;

(B) A significant difference between the borrower’s earnings after completing the program and the earnings for similar borrowers employed in the program’s intended occupational field, determined by, for example, earnings below the second lowest income quintile for the program of study’s intended occupational field according to the Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) code as published by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics;

(C) Lower or lost wages, extended periods of involuntary unemployment, or the cost of obtaining nontransferable credits;

(D) A significant difference in the actual amount or nature of the tuition and fees charged by the institution for which the Direct Loan was disbursed and the amount or nature of the tuition and fees that the institution represented to the borrower reasonably believed that the institution would charge or was charging;

(E) The borrower’s inability to secure employment in the field of study for which the institution expressly guaranteed employment; or

(F) The borrower’s inability to complete the program because the institution no longer offers a requirement necessary for completion of the program in which the borrower enrolled.
(4) The Secretary may determine at any time that a borrower defense claim—the application should not be approved based on evidence that rebuts the borrower’s claim, including any evidence provided by the institution at which the borrower enrolled. Such evidence may include, but is not limited to—

(i) For a claim based on licensure exam passage rates, the institution or program has a licensure exam passage rate associated with the program in which the borrower enrolls that, at a minimum, reasonably approximates the passage rates included in the institution’s marketing materials, website, or other communication made when the student enrolled;

(ii) For a claim based on the inability of the borrower to obtain the necessary certification or licensure for employment in the program’s intended field of employment, the borrower has obtained a certification or licensure related to the program in which the borrower enrolled without needing to complete additional coursework after completing the program; or

(iii) The institution provided information to the borrower to correct the misrepresentation prior to the borrower enrolling in the program; or

(iv) The institution demonstrated that its representative or agent made a misrepresentation that was inconsistent with or prohibited by the institution’s policies, procedures and training at the time it was made.

(45) For purposes of this section, the term “institution” includes an eligible institution, its representatives and agents, or any institution, organization, or person with whom the eligible institution has an agreement to provide educational programs, or to provide marketing, advertising, recruiting or admissions services.
