The IAL program is carried out under the legislative authority of the Fund for Improvement of Education (FIE), Title V, Part D, Subpart 1, Sections 5411 through 5413 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended (ESEA) (20 U.S.C. 7243–7243b). FIE supports nationally significant programs to improve the quality of elementary and secondary education at the State and local levels and to help all children meet challenging State, college- and career-ready academic content standards.

The Department will award no less than 50 percent of FY 2012 funds to applications from LEAs (on behalf of school libraries) for high-quality school library projects that increase access to a wide range of literacy resources (either print or electronic) and provide learning opportunities to all students.
IAL’s Purpose

• The Innovative Approaches to Literacy (IAL) program supports high-quality programs designed to develop and improve literacy skills for children and students from birth through 12th grade within the attendance boundaries of high-need local educational agencies (LEAs) and schools.

• The U.S. Department of Education (Department) intends to support innovative programs that promote early literacy for young children, motivate older children to read, and increase student achievement by using school libraries, distributing free books to children and their families, and offering high-quality literacy activities.

The IAL program supports the implementation of research-based high-quality plans for childhood literacy activities and book distribution efforts that are based scientifically valid research as described in the notice inviting applications. Proposed projects under the IAL program, based on those plans, may include, among other things, activities that--

(a) Increase access to a wide range of literacy resources (either print or electronic) that prepare young children to read, and provide learning opportunities to all participating students;

(b) Provide high-quality childhood literacy activities with meaningful opportunities for parental engagement, including encouraging parents to read books often with their children in their early years of school and of life, and teaching parents how to use literacy resources effectively;

(c) Strengthen literacy development across academic content areas by providing a wide range of literacy resources spanning a range of both complexity and content (including both literature and informational text) to effectively support reading and writing;

(d) Offer appropriate educational interventions for all readers with support from school libraries or not-for-profit organizations;

(e) Foster collaboration and joint professional development opportunities for teachers, school leaders, and school library personnel with a focus on using literacy resources effectively to support reading and writing and academic achievement.

(f) Provide resources to support literacy-rich academic and enrichment activities and services aligned with State college- and career-ready academic content standards and the comprehensive statewide literacy plan (SLP).

Absolute Priority
For FY 2012 and any subsequent year in which we make awards from the list of unfunded applicants from this competition, this priority is an absolute priority. Under 34 CFR 75.105(c)(3) we consider only applications that meet this priority. This priority is:

- High-quality plan for innovative approaches to literacy that include book distribution, childhood literacy activities, or both, and that is supported by at least one study that meets the definition of scientifically valid research (as defined in this notice).

- To meet this priority an applicant must submit a plan that includes the information listed below, and the Department’s reviewers must be able to determine from that information that the plan is supported by at least one study that meets the definition of scientifically valid research (as defined in the notice inviting applications).
(a) a description of the proposed book distribution, childhood literacy activities, or both, that are designed to improve the literacy skills of children and students by one or more of the following—
   (i) promoting early literacy and preparing young children to read;
   (ii) developing and improving students’ reading ability; and
   (iii) motivating older children to read.
(b) the age or grade spans from birth through 12th grade of children and students to be served within the attendance boundaries of high-need LEAs (as defined in the notice);
(c) a detailed description of the key goals, the activities to be undertaken and rationale for those activities, the timeline, the parties responsible for implementing the activities, and the credibility of the plan (as judged, in part, by the information submitted as supporting evidence); and,
(d) a description of how the proposed project is supported by the cited study; and (ii) the name of and citation for the supporting study that is relevant to the applicant’s proposed project.
Applications will be reviewed and scored on the selection criteria, and then will be reviewed to determine eligibility under the absolute priority.

The Department’s Institute of Educational Sciences will conduct this second tier review.
The Competitive Priorities
There Are Four Competitive Priorities

• For FY 2012 and any subsequent year in which we make awards from the list of unfunded applicants from this competition, these priorities are competitive preference priorities. Under 34 CFR 75.105(c)(2)(i), we will award an additional 5 points to an application that meets either Priority 1 or 4. We award up to an additional 5 points to an applicant that meets Priority 2 and up to an additional 5 points to an applicant that meets Priority 3. A total of up to 15 additional points may be awarded.
Under this priority, we give competitive preference to projects that are designed to address one or more of the following priority areas:

- (a) Improving student achievement in persistently lowest-achieving schools;
- (b) Increasing graduation rates and college enrollment rates for students in persistently lowest-achieving school;
- (c) Providing services to students enrolled in persistently lowest-achieving schools;

Note: For the purposes of this priority, the Department considers schools that are identified as Tier I or Tier II schools under the School Improvement Grants program (see 75 FR 66363) as part of a State's approved FY 2009 or FY 2010 applications to be persistently lowest-achieving schools. A list of these Tier I and Tier II schools can be found on the Department's Web site at http://www2.ed.gov/programs/sif/index.html
• Under this priority, we give competitive preference to projects that are designed to improve reading readiness in children, student achievement, or teacher effectiveness or the effectiveness of school library personnel through the use of high-quality digital tools or materials, which may include preparing teachers to use the technology to improve instruction, as well as developing, implementing, or evaluating digital tools or materials.

Competitive Preference Priority 2: Technology (5 points).
Under this priority, we give competitive preference to projects that are designed to improve school readiness and success for high-need children from birth through 3rd grade (or for any age group of high-need children within this range) through a focus on language and literacy development, including the encouraging parents to read books often with their children in their early years of life.
Competitive Preference Priority 4 – Serving Rural LEAs (5 points)

- Under this priority, we give competitive preference to projects that are designed to provide high-quality literacy programming, or distribute books, or both, to students served by a rural local educational agency.
