LEADING FOR READING SUCCESS

Reading First Coaches

Presented by Kathleen Theodore

Reading First National Conference

July 28–30, 2008

Nashville, Tennessee
Purpose

➢ Present key information in the Introductory Guide for Reading First Coaches

➢ Provide networking opportunities for Reading First Coaches
Overview:

- Reading First
- School leadership teams
- Coach’s roles and responsibilities

Taking a Closer Look at What Coaches Do:

- Develop and enhance teachers’ knowledge of SBRR and SBRI
- Facilitate teachers’ use of assessment data to inform instruction
- Guide and support teachers in the delivery of effective reading instruction

Wrap-up:

- Transferring the lead
The Purpose of Reading First

Ensure that all children in America learn to read well by the end of third grade so they are well prepared to achieve their full academic potential.

Reading First Guidance, p. 1
Reading First Coaching

- Is a professional development delivery model
- Extends reading-specific training into the classroom
- Involves on-site support and guidance for teachers

Coaches are NOT evaluators or administrators

“... the classroom provides the most important teaching venue for reaching these early readers. It is in the classroom where the program will build and support the scientifically based reading foundation”

The Role of the Coach

➢ Clearly define the role and responsibilities of the Reading First coach from the outset

- Instructional leadership
- Assessment
- Professional development

➢ Create a coaching schedule

What Coaches Do

– Develop and enhance teachers’ knowledge of SBRR and SBRI

Because Reading First:

➤ Focuses on what works—proven methods of early reading instruction

➤ Requires the implementation of research-based instructional materials, programs, and strategies

What Teachers Need to Do

Reading First coaches help teachers:

- Have a thorough understanding of the core reading program, supplementary materials, and intervention program(s)
- Plan lessons that reflect SBRR
- Incorporate appropriate grouping formats
- Align instruction among the core, supplementary, and intervention reading programs
What Teachers Need to Do (cont.)

Reading First coaches help teachers:

- Deliver explicit and systematic instruction to meet students’ needs:
  - Maximize student engagement
  - Scaffold instruction to support students’ learning

Chapter 3, Resource 1 (p. 21):
Systematic and Explicit Instruction Checklist
Features of Scientifically Based Reading Intervention

How does intervention differ from core reading instruction?

Intervention is MORE:

- Explicit and Systematic
- Intensive
  - Focused
  - Targeted
  - Persistent
  - Accelerates learning
- Supportive

Think About It

How are interventions being implemented in your schools?

Handout 6: Features of Scientifically Based Reading Intervention
What Coaches Do

Facilitate teachers’ use of assessment data to inform instruction

Because Reading First:

- Requires the selection and administration of rigorous reading assessments with proven validity and reliability to measure where students are and to monitor their progress
- Provides assistance in preparing classroom teachers to effectively screen, identify, and overcome reading barriers facing their students

Guidance for Reading First Programs, p. 1

Handout 7: Reading First Assessments
Assessment-Driven Instruction

- Is based on a systematic assessment process
- Focuses on grade-appropriate essential reading components
- Utilizes assessment data to plan and deliver differentiated instruction to ALL K-3 students
What Teachers Need to Do

Reading First coaches help teachers use assessment data to:

Identify students who:
- Are at risk for not meeting grade-level benchmarks
- Have extreme reading difficulties

Group students for instruction:
- Which students should be grouped together?
- How many instructional groups are needed?
- Which concepts and skills need to be targeted?
- Which students need additional instruction outside of the core?

Chapter 5, Resources 4: Facilitating Data Analysis (p. 35), Resource 5: Assessment Data Worksheet (p. 37), Resource 6: Grouping Instruction Worksheet (p. 39)
Reading First coaches help teachers use assessment data to:

Determine instructional intensity

- How can I extend the length and difficulty of tasks?
- How can I provide repeated opportunities for practice and feedback?

Deliver small group instruction

What do other students do while I teach a small group?

Chapter 5, Resource 8: Class Management Guidelines (p. 43)
Reading First coaches help teachers use assessment data to:

Monitor students’ progress
- How do I adjust (scaffold) instruction?
- How do I regroup students to reflect changing needs?

Determine areas of need
Does data reveal topics for professional development, instructional gaps, or additional follow-up support?

Think About It
How do you use assessments to make data-based decisions?
What Coaches Do

Guide and support teachers in the delivery of effective reading instruction

Because Reading First:

- Provides increased professional development to ensure that all teachers, including special education teachers, have the skills they need to teach reading effectively
- Focuses on providing time for teachers to learn new concepts and to practice what they have learned with feedback (i.e., through coaching)

What Coaches Do (cont.)

- Work collaboratively with teachers to improve reading instruction and student outcomes

Never Lose Sight of the Goal
All K-3 students reading on grade level or higher by the end of third grade

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Pre-Conference

The Reading First coach:

- Models and works collaboratively with teachers planning effective lessons:
  - Instructional focus
  - Lesson objectives
  - Strategies and materials
  - Systematic and explicit instruction
  - Process for monitoring student learning

- Sets a date and time with teacher(s) to demonstrate lesson
Demonstration Lesson

The Reading First coach:

- Demonstrates the lesson

Teachers:
- Observe
- Record notes and/or questions
- Focus on targeted parts of the lesson identified during the pre-conference

Chapter 6, Resources 2 (p. 27) and 3 (p. 29): Lesson Demonstration Form and Lesson Demonstration Tip Sheet
Follow-Up Conference

The Reading First coach:

- Answers questions about implementation
- Discusses the demonstration lesson with teacher(s)
- Schedules observation(s) and reflection/post-conference(s)

Clarify in advance the goal of observations: Improving instruction and student outcomes
The Reading First coach:

- Observes while the teacher delivers the lesson
- Takes notes using an observation form

- Observed behavior
- What the teacher and students say
- Grouping information
- Classroom environment

Chapter 6, Resources 4 (p. 31) and 5 (p. 33)
Classroom Observation Process Checklist
Classroom Observation Form
Chapter 6, Activity 3 (p. 21): Identifying and Writing Objective Statements
Reflection/Post Conference

Before

The Reading First coach:
- Examines and reviews the observation data

The teacher:
- Reflects on the lesson (e.g., answers reflection questions)

Reflection/Post Conference (cont.)

During

The Reading First coach and the teacher:
- Review, reflect, and discuss the lesson
- Determine next steps

Think About It

What are some of the challenges discussing observation lessons with teachers?

Resource 7: Post Observation Teacher Reflection Questions (p. 37), Resource 8: Post Observation Goal-Setting Worksheet
Fostering a Community of Learners

Reading First coaches can also facilitate continual learning through:

- Teacher study groups
- Teacher meetings
- Peer coaching
- Professional development workshops

“Schools must become learning organizations where professional development and change become the norm of continuous improvement”

(Little & Houston, 2003)
Strategies for Handling Teacher Resistance

Reading First Coaches can encourage resistant teachers by:

- Working first with willing teachers
- Using large group activities
- Checking in regularly with reluctant teachers
- Promoting peer collaboration

ALL Reading First teachers are expected to be involved in the program and to participate in activities designed to improve student reading outcomes
Transferring the Lead

- Sustainability of reading improvement is the ultimate goal of Reading First
- Reading First ensures an ongoing support system:
  - Helps teachers learn about SBRI
  - Implements programs grounded in SBRR
  - Uses rigorous assessments

Chapter 8, Activity 1, (p. 7): Next Steps: Sustainability of Reading Improvement
“Professional development must be an ongoing, continuous activity, and not consist of ‘one-shot’ workshops or lectures. Delivery mechanisms should include the use of coaches and other teachers of reading who provide feedback as instructional strategies are put into practice.”

Reading First Guidance, p. 26
