II.B. Uses of Education Stabilization funds by public IHEs

Provide a concise narrative of how public IHEs in your State have generally used Education Stabilization funds, and the impact that the funds have had on postsecondary education in your State from October 1, 2010 to September 30, 2011:

Entry from previous timeframe:

Pennsylvania's financial support of post-secondary institutions is paid from a combination of state and federal State Fiscal Stabilization Fund (SFSF) funds. The SFSF funds, which supplement the state funds for the higher education, can largely be used at the discretion of the sub-recipient. Most sub-recipients chose to use their funds to maintain educational programs, curriculum and instructional staff levels.

III.A. & B. Tuition and Fees

Describe any actions taken by the State to limit increases in tuition and fees imposed by public IHEs for in-State students:

Entry from previous timeframe:

Public IHEs in Pennsylvania received SFSF dollars to restore cuts in state funding for FY 2008-09, 2009-10 and FY 2010-11. These institutions include Pennsylvania's 14 state universities, 14 community colleges, four state-related universities (The Pennsylvania State University, Temple University, The University of Pittsburgh, and Lincoln University) and one state technical college. Without this investment of SFSF dollars IHEs would have had to significantly raise tuition and fees for state students, reduce student supports, and furlough or reduce staff and professors. Note: Enrollment figures for the State System of Higher Education for FY 10-11 are estimates.

IV. Tax Increases Averted

Estimate the degree to which State tax increases were averted because of the availability of SFSF funds.

Entry from previous timeframe:

The cost to replace SFSF dollars used for education would equal a statewide personal income tax increase of over $1.5 billion. State or local tax increases of this magnitude during an ongoing economic downturn would have been a burden to Pennsylvania citizens. SFSF dollars allowed Pennsylvania to avoid burdensome increases in state or local taxes while still supporting progress in the classroom.

V. Jobs Saved or Created

In its quarterly reports submitted under section 1512 of ARRA, each State provided data on, among other things, the number of jobs estimated to have been saved or created as a result of SFSF support. The Department will use the information that has been reported to determine the number of jobs that have been saved or created. For the purposes of the Initial Annual Report, the State is not required to provide any additional information on the number of jobs estimated to have been saved or created.

VI. Progress in Advancing Education Reform

A. Reducing inequities in the distribution of highly qualified teachers:

Describe the steps that the State has taken, from October 1, 2010 through September 30, 2011, to reduce inequities in the distribution of highly qualified teachers.

Entry from previous timeframe:

In Pennsylvania, all public school teachers with primary responsibility for direct instruction in one or more of NCLB's core content areas are required to demonstrate subject matter competency to satisfy the definition of a "Highly Qualified Teacher." This definition applies to all Elementary level (grades K-6); Middle- and secondary-level (grades 7-12) core content area instructors; Special education, English as a second language (ESL), and Alternative education teachers who provide direct instruction in one or more core content areas. All LEAs must develop an equitable distribution plan even if they have achieved 100 HQT and met AYP for that year. The Department assists the LEAs to analyze their HQT data to identify why teachers are not HQ and to determine if novice teachers are concentrated in specific schools in the LEA. This analysis measures progress and determines if strategies in the plan are working or should be revised and updated. Pennsylvania's strategies include: • Requiring all teachers and education specialists' certification programs to include components that will enable them to accommodate and adapt instruction for diverse students in inclusive settings and English Language Learners; • Working with novice school administrators to enhance their knowledge and skills; • Department representatives meet with various educational organizations and teachers unions to increase understanding of equitable teacher distribution; • PDE supports schools as they implement strategies to evenly distribute teacher resources across the district, and suggest ideas for recruitment and retention of teachers; • The Department incorporated teacher equitable distribution into the districts' School improvement planning document "Getting Results" and in its strategic plan.
